

Does collective worship influence your child/ren?

- He often talks about God and what he has learnt within school and how God affects the world around him
- She loves to see me attend, it's also nice to see the children and see what they have been doing. She often talks about God and Jesus
- Yes always sing and speak about God who invented the world
- Yes all the time, he loves the songs
- Yes! Our daughter was discussing God an creation and taling about how she is a Christian and that it doesn't matter of other people are not, others believe what they choose.
- Yes has a massive impact and teaches amazing values. Discussed widley at home
- Yes he loves looking out for me and often speaks bout the new things he has learnt
- Yes it is very important!!! They love taking part in it, talk about it, suggest ideas
- Yes she does although we are not Christian it teaches her to be tolerant of other beliefs
- Yes, my child talks about God and the things discussed at school

Do you enjoy coming to collective worship? Is it important to you?

- Yes I enjoy going. I try and go to every one. It is nice to see how well behaved the children are and what they have been doing within school
- Yes, I enjoy it when I can attend. It is lovely to see all the children singing and praying together
- Yes, the children enjoy me attending and I always enjoy the assemblies. It is important to be able to discuss this with the children
- Yes, helps me to share their interests
- Yes!!!!
- Yes when I can attend – yes

How could we improve collective worship?

- Make it more fun, more singing
- Have some actions with the songs
- Smaller groups
- Resources to continue at home
- Have it more advertised
- Involve parents more
- Kids can suggest what to do and be more involved in organising events as they see them
- Invite parents more, send home things to do at home to involve the rest of the family

Favourite songs (for family songs of praise)

Morning has broken (3)

Whole world in his hands (2)

The Best that I can be (at least 6 people)

Make me a channel of your peace

From the tiny ant

The travelling song

The seeds of friendship